PURPLE LINE CARAVAN MOVERS

The act of having to move a caravan is one that is usually much more of a hassle than we originally plan. Purple Line Caravan Movers has now been available across Australia for over a year, and is proving to be a great success with caravanners all across the country. The Camec offering of Purple Line Caravan Movers has a complete range: good (Enduro: $1595), better (E-Go: $1995), and best (E-Go Auto Engage: $2495). All are available for single and twin axle caravans, with a price that is highly competitive and fantastic value. Purple Line and Camec has established a comprehensive network of fitters, who cover most areas across the country. If you do not want to fit the mover yourself then get in touch with Camec or Purple Line and they will arrange for a fast, friendly and convenient fitting service for you.

All models come with a two year manufacturer's warranty on parts, and Purple Line are so confident that you will love its caravan movers, the team are prepared to offer a complete money-back guarantee if you are unhappy with the unit within the first 30 days of purchase.

'GOLDEN CARE' SMOKE DETECTORS FOR RVs

Embarrassing ... isn't it? The toast is cooking for breakfast, the smoke detector does its job and you have just woken up every resident in the RV park. Don't remove the battery or hide the detector away in a drawer to avoid this problem – that's putting lives at risk. The Golden Care Smoke Detector is the solution. This detector has an easily operated facility that allows you to cook for ten minutes without any alarm. From the touch of a button, an LED light and small beep will tell you that it's safe to turn on the cooker. After the ten minutes, the LED light turns off and another small beep alerts you that the smoke detector is active again. Forget about batteries going flat, these units are 9 or 12 Volts and are powered from the RV with a rechargeable back up. Contact the Aussie manufacturer, Ric Macey pty ltd, on ricdmacey@telstra.com or phone 02 4946 5929 or 0417215244 for details, price and delivery.
